

MIKE SVOB WORKSHOP

April 27-May 1, 2009

Watercolor and Acrylic DESIGNING WITH COLOR

The workshop will lead the participants through the various stages of developing a painting idea from beginning to end. In a broad simple way the basic concepts of a design idea - will be transformed into the individual artists completed work. Each day the participant will explore and simplify one design idea that will be completed using a different method or technique.

The four basic elements of how we see and thus how we should paint will be emphasized. Shape, value, edges and color will become things you learn to see and understand. You will then learn how to create a painting using these visual concepts and the tools of a watercolor or acrylic painter.
